

User Guide for SMAIL Application

Application Control:

The application has a main control panel that contains 5 buttons for one menu (a total of 10 buttons):

1. Menu – allows switching between two different parts of the application (Menu 1 and Menu 2).
2. Red button with a white cross – is used to exit the application.
3. Buttons with person icons – are used to write and send messages to specific people. Pressing the button once opens the message writing environment for that person. Pressing the button again sends the message.
4. "To" button – works similarly to the person buttons but is intended for entering any email address if no specific person is selected. This button may be disabled for security reasons.

Viewing Emails:

Clicking on any email in the list of received messages (Inbox) will display the selected message in the Information and Message window on the right side of the application.

Writing an Email:

1. To write an email, select the Person Button you want to write to or use the To button, where you can enter the recipient's email address in the Recipient field.
2. In the Subject field, you can write a brief topic for the message.
3. Write your message in the Message field.
4. To send, press the selected person button or the To button again (marked in green).
5. Upon successful sending, the message "Email has been sent successfully" will be displayed on a green background.
6. If you try to leave a message while writing it, a warning will appear stating that leaving the message will result in losing its content if you press another button again.
7. If you attempt to send a message containing sensitive information (e.g., passwords or card numbers), a warning message will be displayed. Pressing the person button or the To button again will send the message, including the sensitive information.
